

Payouts and bank accounts

08/21/2024 12:07 pm PDT

To receive payments collected on Heylo, simply link a bank account! It only takes a few minutes to set up. Both personal and business bank accounts are acceptable.

Deposits to the link bank account are automated. They occur weekly, every Friday, via ACH. The money you receive is net of platform and payment processing fees.

In the United States, there is a two-day collection period offset to payouts and a seven-day collection period in all other countries. For example, if money is collected in the United States on Thursday the 10th, it will be paid out the following Friday, the 18th.

Bank accounts and all payment info are securely stored with our partner Stripe, a certified PCI Service Provider Level 1 - the most stringent level of certification available in the payments industry. <https://stripe.com/docs/security>.
